

I originally purchased a few quality suri's as my fleece processor was adding some suri into my huacaya product and I figured why not add my own, I only have a small herd but they are a quality herd. My original suris I purchased from Fiona Vanderbeek who was very fibre focused but wasn't into showing, I did very well in the show ring with her suris as did others that purchased Birrong animals. This girl was very fine as a youngster her first cria was a stunning dark fawn male that I would have kept as a stud male but he was chased into a fence and ended up with brain damage... when mum was being rejoined in Victoria, I've added a pic of him, she would do well joined to colour, her current cria is a lovely white female.

This female is lovely and a definite show team girl, fine, lustrous with defined individual locks all over her body indicating her density, a great addition to this little herd.

Raggamuffin was an extremely fine, lustrous junior, she was shorn as a junior as she was too fine and matted where she rolled, she was National Junior Female Champion on a regrowth fleece and continued to prove herself on regrowth fleeces, which explains her exceptional qualities, she was a bottle fed and very friendly except when she's pregnant... her last cria was bottle fed and was also National broad ribbon winner, I am retaining her as a pet due to her friendliness and her bottle fed huacaya friend, Ragamuffins current cria is very very nice, a real little looker, very dense, stylish, lustrous...just lovely.

Raggamoon is very much like her dam, she is fine, stylish, lustrous and dense, she will make a valuable addition to the show team and I would think a Broad Ribbon winner in the making, I look forward to following her progress, Kurrawa Man on the Moon is stamping his qualities into his cria.

I have two cross Suris, thanks to Bulgari's long hair fetish, the naughty boy jumped the fence as both cria were unintended, I have since found out that huacayas were once crossed with suris to build their density, this female put back to a suri would have a suri as she is quite suri like, I kept her as she was a female and from good stock, I am keen to see what she produces with Man on the Moon.

I purchased this lovely boy to add density and a better looking head into my little Suri herd, I had some bad luck with outside matings so figured I'll get my own boy, he started working pretty early and his first two cria are both stunning little girls, he is from Kurrawa's best lines and I was lucky she released him to me before moving on the whole suri herd.

I am asking $20,000 for the herd of 7 quality suris, please let me know if your interested or would like to come and have a look, thank you for showing interest in my suris.

Kind Regards
Sharon
